MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Hello all!

We had a small gathering of people at the Museum recently. I was surprised by how emotional I felt. Seeing the faces of friends, colleagues, and guests, being able to hug and shake hands, and being in a lively social setting put an unshakable smile on my face. We all had reason to celebrate—while some were more impacted than others, we'd made it through the worst of the pandemic. There was an unmistakable sense of jubilation in the air. I don't want to ever forget that feeling. We are social creatures, and we need each other!

It seems a fitting context to be opening the Museum's new exhibition, Longmont 150, which runs through January 9, 2022. On February 2, 1871, the locating committee of the Chicago-Colorado Colony filed the articles of incorporation that established "Longmont." The colony model shares the cost, risks, and benefits among its investors. This communal attitude is at the core of Longmont. The exhibit explores the through-lines of this history, noting elements that continue to shape our identity today—water, innovation, agriculture... While commemorating this significant milestone, the exhibit also pays homage to the inhabitants of the land prior to settlement. In fact, the exhibit does not shy away from challenges in general and recognizes uglier parts of our history, too. By continually engaging community input, our exhibits capture the most complete picture we can muster. It is our duty to past, present, and future Longmont

Join us as we bring back in-person programs and events that highlight our colorful past. Día de los Muertos returns, along with a great line up for Thursday Nights @ the Museum. And don't miss the new publications in the Museum Gift Shop, Paula Fitzgerald's Stories of Our Longmont Parks and Erik Mason's Longmont: The First 150 Years.

See you at the Museum!

Kim Manajek
Museum Director

LONGMONT 150 1871 - 2021

Through January 9, 2022
$8 adults, $5 students/seniors, children
3 and under free, Museum members free

What makes our town special? Is it the pure water, which led us to overcome Longmont's temperance origins to become a center of craft brewing? Or is it our long history of innovation, in telecommunications, data storage, and patents? Or, the many years when Main Street was the place to cruise on a Friday night? Discover these stories and more in Longmont 150, the Museum's newest exhibit and a celebration of Longmont's sesquicentennial. Kids will love taking a "ride" in our customized lowrider and exploring Longmont's bygone industries with stops on our model train. The Museum's historic collection will shine with objects gathered over the past 80+ years, such as the first flag ever flown over Longmont. You'll learn how contemporary Native teens, artists, and scientists continue to shape the place they have been connected to since long before there was ever a "Longmont." It's all here in Longmont 150, an exploration of history for Longmonters young and old.

Día de los Muertos (Day of the Dead) is a time to honor and celebrate our deceased loved ones. After more than a year of challenges and loss, Longmont Museum's annual exhibition and programs will bring the community together to honor the memories of those we have loved and lost and celebrate together in person again. Attracting more than 6,000 people annually, it's the longest standing Day of the Dead exhibition and celebration in Colorado. Community participation is an essential part of this holiday full of life, reflection, food, family, and fun. The programs demonstrate how our diverse community comes together to share a common experience—honoring our ancestors and keeping their memories alive.

ON THE WEB

Visit longmontdayofthedeath.com (English) or longmontdiadelosmuertos.com (Spanish) for information about all things Día de Muertos in Longmont and thematic content highlighting the origins and traditions that make Day of the Dead a meaningful and heartwarming holiday. Follow along to cook with family, create traditional crafts, build your own altar, and more.

DÍA DE LOS MUERTOS EXHIBITION

October 9–November 7; free

The Día de los Muertos exhibition returns to the Museum's Swan Atrium this fall featuring ofrendas (altars) built by community members and the work of Longmont artist, Mario Olvera. Olvera's artistic lens has become an inseparable part of both his professional and personal life, beautifully woven into his endeavors as a visual artist, educator, youth mentor, Aztec dancer, and father. Using art as a vessel to foster self-acceptance and respect among marginalized populations, Mario has become an influential teacher in Longmont and the surrounding region.

DAY OF THE DEAD FAMILY CELEBRATION

Saturday, October 9

This year, the Día de los Muertos Family Celebration will open the season in downtown Longmont! We are bringing back the street festival, including music and dance performances, arts and craft activities, cultural education, delicious food, downtown business altars, the Gigantes Procession, and the Firehouse Art Center's Catrina Ball. Día de los Muertos exhibitions at both the Longmont Museum and Firehouse will also be open and free. Park downtown or at the Longmont Museum and take the free shuttle between locations so you can enjoy all the activities of the day.

SHIBORI TIE DYE

Thursday, September 9
(494000.17)

Instructor: Ann Macca

In this class you will learn a variety of folding, twisting, and binding techniques inspired by a Japanese fabric dyeing technique known as Shibori. Choose your favorite patterns, and make a set of cloth napkins to take home. You are also welcome to bring your own fabric to the class to try these techniques on clothing!

GOLDEN ASPENS

Thursday, September 16 (494000.18)

Instructor: Julia Zúñiga

As the temperature drops in the Rocky Mountains, the Aspen leaves turn gold. In this class, you will learn how to paint from an ant's eye perspective and mix a variety of golden hues set against a brilliant blue sky background to create the illusion of movement and sunlight.

DRAWING INSPIRATION: OBJECTS OF INTEREST

Thursday, September 23 (494000.19)

Instructor: Leigh Putman

Curator of History Erik Mason and Teaching Artist Leigh Putman will select rarely seen objects from the Longmont Museum collection highlighting the past 150 years of our community's history. Leigh will arrange these objects allowing light and shadow to play across the scene. She will demonstrate techniques in pencil, charcoal, watercolor pencil, and watercolor paint to help you capture the tableau.

DRAWING INSPIRATION: FARMING TOOLS & ARTIFACTS

Thursday, September 30 (494000.20)

Instructor: Leigh Putman

In this class, you will draw from a specially curated still life made up of artifacts from the Longmont Museum's historical collection telling the story of farming life in Longmont over the past 150 years. Leigh will demonstrate a variety of drawing techniques in pencil, charcoal, watercolor pencil, and watercolor paint to help you capture the tableau.

PAINTING THE OLD SUGAR MILL

Thursday, October 7 (494000.21)

$25 general admission, $22 students/seniors, $18 members

The Museum welcomes Centennial State Ballet back for its 2021 Fall Showcase featuring The Magic Flute and the opening of their 10th Anniversary Season of Celebration! The Magic Flute is a brand new ballet choreographed by Executive Artistic Director Kristin Kingsley to music composed by Riccardo Drigo, arranged for piano and flute by Rick Thomas. Follow Luc and his magical flute as he inspires Lise, his love, to dance.

SEICENTO BAROQUE ENSEMBLE AN ITALIAN INTERMEZZO 10TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION CONCERT

Sunday, November 7, 3 pm

$25 general admission, $22 students/seniors, $18 members

Seicento returns to the Stewart Auditorium to celebrate their 10th anniversary with a special concert exploring the Italian intermedii or intermezzi of the late Renaissance. These musical interludes, which included theatrics and dance, were the precursors of early Baroque opera in Italy and continued into the 17th century in the Italian music Academies. They were traditionally performed between the acts of a play to celebrate weddings and other special occasions in cities such as Florence and Ferrara, and they offer a fascinating insight into the opulent world of the Italian courts around 1600.

On Sunday, July 11, we hosted a closing reception to celebrate Enduring Impressions. This unique exhibit featured original paintings, charcoal illustrations, and prints by quintessential impressionists Claude Monet, Edgar Degas, and Camille Pissarro from the personal collection of Drs. Morton and Tobia Mower. We are tremendously grateful for the Mowers' generosity in sharing these masterworks with Longmont and to Simon for his inspiration and art historical acumen.

WELCOME MEAGHAN! NEW FUND DEVELOPMENT MANAGER

Meaghan Peters is excited to join the Museum as our new fund development manager and to be part of the arts and cultural scene in Longmont. Meaghan is from the East Coast, but she moved to Colorado for college and never left. She graduated Regis University with a Bachelors Degree in English and later with her Masters in Nonprofit Management. In her free time, she enjoys reading, cooking, and spending time outside with her family. Meaghan has 10 years of development experience including working for Child Advocates – Denver CASA, the Boulder Valley Women's Health Center, and Mount Saint Vincent Home.

WASHI TRANSFORMED: NEW EXPRESSIONS IN JAPANESE PAPER

January 29–May 15, 2022

Washi is traditional Japanese paper made from local fiber that is processed by hand. Washi Transformed will feature more than 35 highly textured two-dimensional works, expressive sculptures, and dramatic installations that explore the amazing potential of this traditional medium. Nine Japanese artists embrace the seemingly infinite possibilities of washi, underscoring the unique stature this ancient artform has earned in the realm of international contemporary art. The breathtaking creativity of these artistic visionaries deepens our understanding of how the past informs the present, and how it can build lasting cultural bridges out of something as seemingly simple and ephemeral as paper.

Washi Transformed: New Expressions in Japanese Paper was organized by Meher McArthur and is toured by International Arts & Artists, Washington, DC.
